

Special Offer
March 2020

FESTO

The outbreak of Coronavirus is forcing many educational facilities to empty their classrooms.

How can students continue to learn?

Festo Didactic is offering a free access to our eLearning Platform: Mind-Sight, a SCORM-compliant learning content management system (LCMS). This online software integrates tools such as: efficiently building learning paths, delivering engaging lessons, and monitoring student progress to ensure success. With dozens of available courses, your students can continue to learn about topics including:

- Electricity and Energy
- Industrial Technology Manufacturing Technology
- Many other topics are available

In addition, we are also offering free access to many simulation programs that will allow your students to conduct virtual hands on activities in areas such as:

- Electricity and Motors
- Fluid Power
- PLCs

➔ You can learn more about our eLearning offering here!

